

Life Is a Symphony

Meet Becky Eldredge... bassoonist and blithe spirit

Becky lives in an 1820's house in Montague, MA, with cats Jack and Hannah. Taking time off from scales last summer, she scaled a ladder and painted her entire house – solo!

In her spare time she reads, bicycles, makes jam, donates blood, and does crossword puzzles.

Secret ambition: to go bicycling in France

Pet peeve: people who are always on transmit and never on receive

Best advice: "When one door closes, another opens."

Becky spent years managing a deli in a natural foods co-op, but now makes a living with her music. If that door closed, she'd own a bookstore or an antique shop, or write travel books. Or there's always that job on the top rung!
