Meet Mary Gibson... violinist and comedienne

One of Mary's childhood ambitions was to be a stand-up comedian. Was it a coincidence she got a Victor Borge music scholarship at U Conn?

A resident of Stowe, Mary makes a living teaching (34 students!) and performing. She played a huge role in the VSO's recent Visioning process, where her effervescent personality resuscitated many a long meeting.

Recent accomplishments: producing a CD of interviews with music about Stowe's X-country ski history; getting EMT certified.

Little-known fact: her Greenwich H.S. music teacher was Tony Princiotti's dad

Hero: Jon Stewart

Her favorite way to spend an evening is laughing with friends and family (that's husband David and her two overachieving kids, Michael and Molly). You can guess who's keeping everyone in stitches!
